

B. Riley Farber Has Been Acquired by Toronto-Based TorQuest Partners

We Are Also Rebranding as GlassRatner and Positioned to Build & Grow an Independent Advisory Business in Canada

Dear clients and stakeholders,

We are excited to share an important milestone in our firm's evolution—one that strengthens our position in the marketplace and increases our ability to serve you, and your clients, with the exceptional service and authenticity you've come to expect from us.

Our journey with Ian Ratner and the GlassRatner team spans nearly two decades, built on a foundation of trust and shared values. This long-standing relationship led to our corporate services division being acquired by B. Riley Financial in 2023, to become B. Riley Farber.

From the outset, our goal was to align our Canadian business with the GlassRatner US team—recognizing the powerful synergies between our respective firms and the tremendous value this alignment would bring to our clients.

Today, we are proud to announce that this strategic vision has been fully realized. Our teams are fully integrated, and we proudly offer clients exceptional professional expertise across North America.

TorQuest Acquires GlassRatner & B. Riley Farber

On June 27, GlassRatner and B. Riley Farber were acquired by TorQuest Partners—a leading Private Equity firm, based in Toronto. This deal includes our entire Canadian team and operations, ensuring seamless continuity and strengthening our collective capabilities in the Canadian and US markets.

As part of this evolution, we will also be transitioning from the B. Riley Farber name and rebranding as GlassRatner across Canada. While we honour the legacy of the past, we are proud and excited to lead the Canadian operations of GlassRatner.
